

Support

- What is the difference between your facebook store and your Originals store?
- How does Sorsdahl art look in my room or house?
- Cant find the answer to a question?

---

What is the difference between your facebook store and your Originals store?

Both stores list my original paintings and prints for sale. One informs my Facebook members of any new painting listings, while the other Originals store tends to display well in most browsers and is hosted on my sorsdahl.com site. Note: An original painting is just that, only one exists. When an original sells, its gone and will be removed from inventory. In the unlikely event of the same painting selling from both my Facebook store and my Originals store, the transaction that occurred first will get the painting and the one who bought afterwards will get a refund.

---

How does Sorsdahl art look in my room or house?

The best thing to do is click on the AllPosters link for a painting and they have a "view how it looks in a room". You can see the painting against a variety of decors, kitchen, living room and bedroom. While not every work is available on AllPosters, it should give you a pretty good idea.

---

Cant find the answer to a question?

email me.

---